

CZECHOSLOVAKIA BOWS AND RELUCTANTLY ACCEPTS THE DECISION OF THE FOUR POWERS

Surrender Announced Early In the Afternoon — Even The Sturdiest Are Staggered by Blow at National Existence — Anxiety Over What the Army Will Do

(By H. R. Knickerbocker, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PRAGUE, Sept. 30.—Czechoslovakia bowed to the sword today, and accepted with reluctance and misgiving, the four-power decision allowing Germany to enter the Sudetenland, beginning tomorrow.

Faced with no alternative in view of the agreement signed "without and against her," Czechoslovakia announced her surrender early in the afternoon. But even the sturdiest Czechs were staggered by what they are certain is nothing less than a fatal blow to their national existence.

The cabinet debated how best to break the news. Above all, there is anxiety as to how the Czech army will respond to orders to evacuate its fortifications.

"Time-table strangulation" was the Czech description of the Munich pact, in which Czechoslovakia pointed out that it means the victorious German army will invade the country comfortably over a period of ten days, instead of an ardously longer time.

Bitterest of all to the Czechs is the knowledge they have been forced to their knees, not by an open enemy, but by so-called friends, who not only deserted her, but went over to the enemy, and forbade them to lift a finger to defend themselves.

Above all, Prague emphasizes that Munich has settled nothing, but merely postponed the fatal settlement, which it feels the world must eventually have with Hitler, unless it is prepared to allow him to conquer all of Europe without firing a shot.

By Pierre J. Huss

MUNICH, Sept. 30.—The Czech problem disposed of, Prime Minister Chamberlain and Reichsfuehrer Hitler today signed an Anglo-German peace pact of far-reaching scope and importance.

After a two-hour private conference with the Fuehrer, the Prime Minister announced that he and Hitler had signed a momentous declaration agreeing that a consultation shall be the method of dealing with the Anglo-German questions.

Both he and Hitler, Chamberlain declared, regard the agreement reached last night, satisfying the Fuehrer's demands in Czechoslovakia as "symbolic of the desire of our peoples never to go to war against one another."

Thus, by a few strokes of the pen, all enmity between Great Britain and Germany that hung over from the last war and all estrangement brought about by the Reich's retirement from its national councils under the Hitler regime, have been wiped out, presumably for all time.

The declaration, if fulfilled to the letter, means that never again will Britain and Germany go to war.

In fact, it means that if Chamberlain and Hitler signed the pact in all sincerity and their governments honored it, there may never be another war in Europe.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Snatched from the brink of war, a grateful England today sought some means of rewarding Prime Minister Chamberlain, idolized here as well as in France and Germany, as the savior of European peace.

Pressure was brought to bear on King George to reward the gaunt 69-year-old former Birmingham alderman with the knighthood, the Order of the Garter and Order of Merit.

Stanley H. Benton Is Speaker For Exchangeites

Stanley H. Benton, New York, was the featured speaker at the meeting of the Bristol Exchange Club held at the Elks' Home last evening when he talked on the subject, "Proportional Representation."

Mr. Benton pointed out that this system of election, which is now being used in Toledo, Wheeling, Cincinnati, and New York City, does away with primary elections and public officials are elected on a proportionate basis.

The speaker gave several illustrations of the way this new idea in political voting works. The talk was extremely interesting and much enjoyed by the members.

Powerful amplifiers carry the trailer's sound effects to points a mile distant.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Schools will participate in the 1938 Christmas Seal campaign by special projects, according to the Bucks County Tuberculosis Society.

A teaching unit on "Christmas in the Home," prepared for the National Tuberculosis Association by Ruth M. Straug, Associate Professor of Education, Teachers College, Columbia University, and Grace Reeves, Horace Mann School of Teachers College, New York City, is being made available by the Bucks County Association.

The unit carries out the theme of the 1938 Christmas Seal and presents glimpses of home living years ago, with brief pictures of life in the days of Koch of Germany, Laennec of France, Trudeau of America, and Holboell of Denmark, four heroes in the anti-tuberculosis movement. Many suggestions are given for pupils of various ages to carry out toward gaining an appreciation of home living of the past and the present.

Another item available is a program of original dramatizations entitled "Four Pathfinders." This is a presentation of epoch-making incidents in the lives of Laennec, inventor of the stethoscope; Koch, discoverer of the tuberculosis germ; Trudeau, a pioneer in the organized fight against tuberculosis; and Holboell, Danish originator of Christmas Seals.

"It is important to interest students in the tuberculosis campaign," said the Society, "because they represent the group in which lies our greatest hope for control of the disease. By increasing our efforts in this group through more education, and through tuberculin testing and X-rayings, many breakdowns from tuberculosis can be averted. More than half of all deaths from tuberculosis occur in the years between 15 and 45, and among young women from 15 to 29 more than one out of every four deaths is caused by tuberculosis."

Elaborate preparations have been made by the Rev. Alexander B. Davidson, pastor of the Doylestown Methodist Episcopal Church, and other members of the congregation for a celebration which will be conducted throughout the coming week in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the church.

Supervising Principal J. Leonard Halderman, of the Doylestown schools, today announced that the preliminary plans for the new proposed junior-senior high school building, together with the necessary P. W. A. forms, have all been forwarded to Harrisburg.

JUDGE JAMES FLAYS "FALSE PROPAGANDA"

Tells Audience of 10,000 at Somerset That Democrats Won't Get Away With It

IS VERY WELL RECEIVED

SOMERSET, Sept. 30.—Addressing one of the largest rallies of the Fall ballot drive, Judge Arthur H. James, Republican candidate for Governor, told 10,000 Somerset County voters, last night, that the Democrats are not going to get away with their malicious propaganda "because the voters have their eye on the bird."

The Democratic organization is waging its State-wide campaign on a platform of false propaganda to divert the minds of the voters from the "stinking rotten mess existing at Harrisburg under the Earle Administration," Judge James declared.

Washington, Sept. 29.

IF, as everyone earnestly hopes, war is averted and a period of peace definitely assured to the world as a result of the Munich Conference, a good many people are—or at any rate should be—going to be ashamed of having joined the shrill chorus of abuse of Mr. Chamberlain. And a lot of them are in this country.

IT IS interesting and significant that two days ago one of the great American newspapers which had sternly censured Mr. Chamberlain for not standing firmly by the Czechs in their effort to hold what they have, completely changed its tune. Now, it editorially points out that the British Prime Minister's course all the way through has been that of a great Christian statesman, who has measured up

"We have the approval of the County Board and the State department," said Mr. Halderman, who pointed out the final solution on the entire building plan will now be determined by the P. W. A. grant and the approval of the General State Authority. The G. S. A. must approve the site of the new building.

Announcement was made by Mr. Halderman that for the benefit of parents and taxpayers the plans and details of the proposed building program will be discussed at the first meeting of the Doylestown Parent-Teacher Association which will be held Thursday evening, October 13th.

Approximately 150 persons, taxpayers of Sellersville and Perkaskie, attended a mass meeting held in the auditorium of Sell-Perk High School for the purpose of hearing an explanation of plans for the proposed school expansion in the twin boroughs.

Attendance at the meeting was not as large as had been expected, but sentiment among the persons seemed to have been in favor of the plans.

The proposition, which includes the proposal to spend $150,000 through State and Federal aid, was explained in detail by Lewis N. Snyder, supervising principal of the Sell-Perk High School; Charles M. Talley, an architect from Telford, who has drawn up the plans, and Assistant County Superintendent Albert C. Rutter, Perkaskie.

Plans, explained Mr. Snyder, call for the construction of an auditorium, the building of 13 additional class rooms and doubling the present capacity of the gymnasium.

TO MAKE RELIGIOUS SURVEY OF BRISTOL

First Effort of Its Kind To Be Made Here, It Is Stated

WILL START OCT. 30TH

The first complete religious survey ever attempted of the borough of Bristol is being fostered by the Bristol Ministerial Union, and is to get under way on Sunday, October 30th.

Desirous of learning the number of un-churched families in Bristol, and of securing their interest in the denomination in which they express a preference, members of the ministerial union have outlined their campaign.

Survey cards are to be provided to the 150 who will form the several committees taking part in the survey. On October 30th each home in the limits of Bristol borough will be visited. Name of the church with which the family is affiliated will be filled in, and if there is no affiliation with any church the denominational "leaning" or preference will be filled in. These cards will then be turned over to the pastors of the churches named, who in turn will endeavor to have members of the families become interested and affiliate with the church.

The committees are to be named from each of the Protestant churches of the borough, these to form one large committee.

The survey will be followed in November by "Community Loyalty Month," which will be opened on Wednesday, November 2nd, with a mass meeting in the Bristol Methodist Church. Dr. Paul Leinbach, Philadelphia, is to be the speaker.

Special services will be held in each of the Protestant churches of the borough throughout the month of November.

Lehman To Be Candidate

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Setting the stage for a rib-rocking Fall campaign, Governor Herbert H. Lehman today consented to stand for a fourth term as Democratic nominee for Governor, against District Attorney Thomas Dewey of New York City.

Lehman's reluctant assent was won from him by the pleadings of Democratic leaders, less than 24 hours after the Republican convention at Saratoga Springs had selected Dewey as the 1938 G. O. P. candidate.

In bowing to the demands of party leaders, the Governor foreswore his personal aspirations to succeed the late Senator Royal S. Copeland for the abbreviated U. S. Senate term. Nomination for this contest will go to Representative James Mead of Buffalo, also was widely discussed.

Plans For Occupation

Munich, Sept. 30.—When German troops march across the German-Czech border tomorrow to begin their progressive occupation of the Sudetenland, they first will penetrate the Czech frontier areas in the southwest part of the country.

Under the terms of the four-power agreement accepted by the Prague regime today, the evacuation of the Czech-Sudeten areas and their occupation by German troops will be carried out in four stages. The entire process is to be completed by October 10.

The first stage, carried out tomorrow and Sunday, covers the zone in southwestern Czechoslovakia, north of the German cities of Linz and Passau. On October 2 and 3, the second stage of evacuation and occupation will affect regions along the northern Czech border.

ALL LOWER BUCKS COUNTY SCHOOL TEAMS IN ACTION

Bensalem, Fallsington and Langhorne to Pry Off Lid In 1938 Campaign

SOME PLAY IN JERSEY

Expect Several Close Games On the Schedule for This Week-End

Having one game already under their belts, Bristol, Newtown, and Morrisville High grid elevens are now pointing to their second games today and tomorrow. At the same time Bensalem, Fallsington and Langhorne will all pry the lid off their 1938 campaign with games today and tomorrow, also.

And so for the first time this year, all six Lower Bucks schools will see action this week. Of the six games, four will be played in this locality while the other two are scheduled abroad. In those six games, the opposition will be furnished by New Jersey schools in five contests, four of which will be played in Pennsylvania and the other one on Jersey soil.

This is significant, however, for New Jersey schools still abide with the intercollegiate football rules while Pennsylvania discarded them last year to take up the National Federation football rules for high schools. This means that the invading Jersey schools will have to play under Federation rules while Pennsylvania teams playing in New Jersey must also play under collegiate rules. And that is an added advantage for the home team in either case.

Last week all three of Lower Bucks schools that opened the season played on foreign soil, but two of those teams will return home this week-end, whereas the other takes the road again. At the same time two of the three schools opening this week will be hosts while the other will be the guests for the afternoon's entertainment.

Fallsington, Langhorne, Newtown and Morrisville are the quartet of schools playing at home, while Bensalem and Bristol will be away this week. The schedule is evenly divided with three games booked each for today and tomorrow.

This afternoon, all the games are in this section with New Jersey schools furnishing the opposition. Mt. Holly opens its campaign against Fallsington, Newtown plays host to Flemington, while Langhorne starts its new season against Pemberton at Langhorne. Then on Saturday afternoon, Burlington will invade the lair of the Morrisville Bulldogs, Bristol High travels to Bordentown to resume its schedule, while Bensalem opens the '38 season at Upper Merionide.

TO HOLD MEETING TO FORM WOMEN'S LEAGUE

A meeting, called for the purpose of organizing a women's bowling league in Bristol, will be held at the Recreation Center, Monday evening.

For some years now there has been no women's league, although at one time Bristol was represented with such an organization.

At a meeting last week it was found that they were five members short of a six-team league. It is hoped that these five will be filled by Monday evening, say the sponsors.

Women's bowling is becoming more popular in many sections of the country. Many of the larger cities have outstanding women's teams.

REPORT HEARD ON GAME DISTRIBUTED IN AREA

Reports of the Fish Committee and the Game Committee were heard last evening when the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association met at the Odd Fellows Home here. President Robert Sutton was in the chair.

The game committee report indicated that the following game was distributed between January 1st and September 29th: On March 10th, 56 full grown cock birds were liberated in this section; and on March 23rd, 20 quail were also liberated.

The fish committee reported that so far this year 40 cans of yellow perch fry were placed at Maple Beach; 12 cans in the canal; 10,000 large mouth bass, from 2 to 4 inches in the canal; and 1,000 large mouth bass, from 5 to 7 inches, in the canal. All fish were reported in fine condition.

A report of the condition of the water at Maple Beach was also heard. The tests were made by C. Joel Young, associated with the State Fish Commission, and indicated that the discoloration of the waters here were merely from vegetation and that there is no poison in the waters. The waters of the Canal were also tested and proved in fine condition.

Tomorrow morning a consignment of catfish and bream from the Torresdale hatchery will be placed in the canal.

The next meeting of the Association will be held in January.

Germany Has Lost Some Great Jews To Sorrow

in obtaining a new home. But most of the 5,000,000 Jews condemned by the anti-Semites of Europe to seek refuge abroad are unwanted by most nations. Today the problem of the liberal states of the world has become: "Shall we open our doors, or prevail upon the British to keep open the door of Palestine?"

Already, for reasons of Imperial politics, the British have yielded to the Arab Terror and have reduced by decree the number of Jewish immigrants admitted into Palestine to 12,000 a year, or less than one-half the 27,370 the United States has promised to take this year.

Every month of failure by the British administration of Palestine to check the Arab Terror demonstrably closes the door to an average of 4,000 Jews. Unable to escape to their promised National Home, these Jews numbering a minimum of 50,000 a year, are added to the flood which now assails the liberal states of the world for refuge.

This is the minimum figure concerned. Palestine under normal conditions of law and order might well absorb several times the number of Jewish immigrants it took in 1935 when 61,854 entered the country.

With Jewish immigration at 60,000 a year, Palestine could take in ten years the equivalent of all the Jews left in Germany and Austria. By 1947 the Jewish population in Palestine would then have reached around 1,300,000, and for the first time exceed the Arab population.

This is precisely what the Arabs want to avoid. They themselves are increasing more rapidly than ever before under the enhanced material prosperity brought about by the Jews, and are increasing more rapidly than the Jews. But the 1935 average of Jewish immigration would give the Jews the majority in another nine years.

This majority is what the Jews wish to obtain. Once possessed of it they could ask for termination of the Mandate and the establishment of a real Jewish State, under Jewish control.

To stop Jewish immigration is hence the major aim of the Arabs. As soon as they realized the significance of the 1935 immigration they began in 1936 the Terror which has reigned ever since. It cut down the Jewish immigration in 1936 to one-half the previous year's, or 29,727, and this year coerced the British into fixing an upper limit of 1,000 a month.

It has crippled, but not stopped Jewish development of Palestine. I visited the Sieff Institute. Its staff, liable any night to be sniped at their desks, is still grinding away at experiments which, as the Royal Commission put it, "are watched by chemists all over the world." Their aim is to find ways for Palestine industry to use the raw materials at hand, and to employ Jewish brains to manufacture quality products in competition with richer lands.

Industry in Palestine never existed before the Jews came. Palestine now has 6,300 factories and workshops with $65,000,000 invested, and 30,000 workers who turn out products to the value of $45,000,000 yearly. I visited the "Shemen" soap and cosmetic works at Haifa, where despite the Arabs who have killed two and wounded eight workers recently, 300 still carry on turning out $2,250,000 worth of products a year and exporting to sixty lands. Private defenses of this one firm against the Arabs cost $4,000 a year.

In the teeth of the Arab Terrorists, the Jews have founded twenty-seven new settlements, or more than one a month in the last two years of unprecedented "disturbances." They have taken up 10,000 acres of new land, most of it bought from the Arabs at extortionate prices. Two thousand advance guard soldier-farmers are clearing the land of these latest out of the total of 221 Jewish settlements in Palestine with 100,000 inhabitants.

In defiance of British limitation and Arab violence, the Jews continue to come into Palestine illegally at the rate of about 500 a month, an indication of what immigration would be if the British removed their restriction.

There is unemployment, about 8,000 now estimated out of work, due to economic insecurity resulting not so much from the Terror itself as from the uncertainty about what the British intend to do. Real estate values are down by fifty per cent for the same reason.

Yet the Arabs have less reason to believe they are beating the Jews than they have to believe they are beating the British. I cited to Moshe Shertok, head of the Political Department of the Jewish Agency, the words of the young Arab lieutenant of the Mufli, Emile Goury, who triumphantly declared:

"We fought the Balfour Declaration 18 years and made the British give it up and produce the Partition Scheme; now we will fight it necessary the Partition Scheme another 18 years until they give it up."

The conservative Shertok exclaimed: "If the Arabs fought the Balfour Declaration 18 years we can say we enforced it in those 18 years. Our population in that time rose from 50,000 to 420,000; we built over 200 colonies, acquired 250,000 acres of land, brought in over 350,000 Jews, created the new city of Tel-Aviv, gave Haifa and Jerusalem a Jewish majority, made whole stretches of the country practically 100 per cent Jewish, created an industry with 30,000 employees, and built a University. If the Arabs want to fight another 18 years we shall in that time have achieved our National Home."

Young Republicans Perfect Organization

was John R. Danforth, Statistician of the Phila. County Group, who outlined several reasons why he was a Republican. "Since the beginning of the century," Danforth pointed out "there have been just two Democratic Administrations, and the records show that in both cases the most enormous debts that the United States has ever experienced were incurred in these administrations."

"The Republican party is the party that has furnished the national stability that has enabled this country to carry on. And business has always prospered during Republican administrations."

"The debt created during Wilson's administration was diligently cut down during the following Republican years at the rate of one billion dollars a year. Prosperity returned after Wilson left office."

"And now with the present Administration the debts have piled up again beyond the comprehension of the average American. Roosevelt promised to lick the unemployment problem that was in the forefront when he assumed office. But today there are more unemployed persons in this country than when he took office."

"A Republican is honest enough to recognize his debts and strive to pay them. The Democratic party, in my life-time, has always been the party that has spent other people's money without giving two darns."

"The Nation is looking forward to what Penna. will do in the coming election. Let us put over the Republicans again in this State and set a good example for the rest of the country," was Danforth's closing plea.

Another of the speakers at the session was Charles E. Voorhees, chairman of the Young Republican organization in Phila. County, who told the audience that "the policies of the present Administration, both in the State and Federal governments, are reach-

"It is up to this Bristol Young Republican Club and every other like organization in the country to give all the aid possible in helping to do away with such a condition. It is up to you to help your committeeman and committeewoman wherever possible. It is the only way to put in a Republican organization!"

Byron E. VanDyke, regional director in the State Young Republican movement, told of the methods of organizing local Young Republican clubs. He aided in the local organization here last evening and informed the group that he would be glad to give any further aid that might be required.

Following the talks and elections the audience enjoyed refreshments.

horts heap scorn upon the Republican candidates for State-wide offices," said the jurist, "but you don't hear them tell us about the record of the Democrats at Harrisburg."

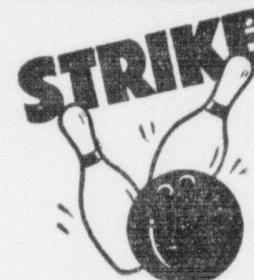

At the same time he said Earle had "consummate gall" in running for the U. S. Senate because the State Executive had broken his promise to provide work for Pennsylvania's unemployed. "Earle," he added, "ought to be ashamed to be a candidate for public office after his record at Harrisburg."

Comparing Earle's administration to the "pirates of old," Judge James said the Governor sailed the ship of State to uncharted seas, ignoring the "sailing orders he got from the public."

"You fell down, George," said the jurist, "and you'll get no more sailing orders from us."

"Despite the fact he broke his 1934 campaign promises he now wants the people of Pennsylvania to send him to the United States Senate. "Did you ever hear of such consummate gall? He ought to be ashamed to be a candidate for public office after his record at Harrisburg and particularly after he fell down on promise No. 1—to give every man a job."

The Republican candidate said Pennsylvania has the largest unemployment percentage in the eastern part of the country at the present time. In New Jersey, Judge James said, one out of every 19 are out of work; in Maryland, one out of 27, but in Pennsylvania "we find that one out of every seven are in need of a job."
